

D'ANTAN

vino naturale & cucina italiana

Our natural wines...

are the result of the deep respect that our winemakers have for their land.

A respect that starts in the commitment to growing native grapes, as an authentic expression of their land. It continues choosing organic and biodynamic farming methods, that favor the coexistence in the vineyard of a living plant biodiversity, made up of herbs or animals that keeps the vines healthy and nourish the soil and plants in a natural way.

In natural winemaking the harvest is entirely manual, respecting the rhythms of nature. Even in the cellar the intervention is minimal, where the sole task of the winemaker is to accompany the grapes in the expression of their identity through an absolutely natural fermentation with indigenous yeasts, without temperature control, filtration or clarification that alter the true "soul" of the wine.

The result is Natural, vibrant, living wines, that are a perfect interpretations not only of the territory, of culture and tradition but also of the personality and the unique passion of the winemaker.

In a word it's the real reflection of the "terroir".

*All served by the glass!
Helping you to appreciate a glass at a time.*

For our wine list we have selected only labels and producers capable of crating, with their wines, a journey made of passion, authenticity and respect for the land.

We believe that the best way to help you to explore is to serve all our wines by the glass.

Because every step of this journey deserves to be sipped slowly, before starting again to discover new emotions and sensations.

Orange

Orange wine is a white wine produced like a red, with maceration of white grape skins and pips. It is not only their unmistakable color that is fascinating but also an absolutely particular aromatic profile. On the palate, they are distinguished by breadth and complexity of taste, rich and deep aromas often dominated by mineral hints and by the perception of a slight tannic presence.
